Take This Quiz!! How You Learn Best

How do you learn best? The Chinese proverb “I hear, I forget; I see, I remember; I do, I understand” expresses the widely-held notion that many of us learn best when we “get our hands dirty” with the subject matter. However, recent research suggests that there is a wide variety of preferred methods for people to receive and process information. This quiz will assist you in determining how you learn best. The simple instructions at the end of the quiz will help you pinpoint the study aids in this course that will make statistics more understandable and enjoyable.

Circle the letter of the answer that best explains your preference. Circle more than one if a single answer does not match your perception.

1. You are about to give directions to a person who is standing with you. She is staying in a hotel in town and wants to visit your house later. She has a rental car. Would you:
   a. draw a map on paper?
   b. tell her the directions?
   c. write down the directions (without a map)?
   d. pick her up at the hotel in your car?

2. You are not sure whether a word should be spelled “dependent” or “dependant.” Do you:
   a. look it up in the dictionary?
   b. see the word in your mind and choose by the way it looks?
   c. sound it out in your mind?
   d. write both versions down on paper and choose one?

3. You have just received a copy of your itinerary for a world trip. This is of interest to a friend. Would you:
   a. show her on a map of the world?

<td>This preference includes the depiction of information in charts, graphs, flow charts, and all the symbolic arrows, circles, hierarchies, and other devices that instructors use to represent what could have been presented in words. Note: This definition does not include the use of television, videos, and films. These media are primarily Aural (A) and Kinesthetic (K) because of their presentation of sound and reality (usually). They rarely use graphics.</td>
<td>This perceptual mode describes a preference for information that is “spoken or heard.” Students with this modality report that they learn best from lectures, tutorials, labs and talking to other students.</td>
